

Disorder Effects on Massive Dirac Electrons

Qian Nui (University of Texas-Austin, US)

In this talk, I will discuss how the kind and strength of disorder affects transport properties of electrons described by gapped Dirac models. I will focus on the anomalous Hall effect and paying particular attention on the distribution of Berry curvatures.